FEDERAL OFFICERS RAID A BOOTLEGGER

RAIDERS BELIEVE THEY HAVE FOUND SOURCE OF SUPPLY OF DRUNKEN INDIANS

For some time officers have been conducting a still hunt for the parties who have been selling liquor to Indians and it is believed the chief agent has been run to earth. The alleged distributing center was in a cabin directly back of Elks' hall on St. Patrick street adjoining Penley's planing mill. The place was under espionage for some time but the cunning displayed by the patrons baffled the officers until last Friday night when an Indian was observed approaching the cabin. At a signal the door was opened and soon after another Indian and squaw were admitted. Then the officers rushed the joint and captured the owner, a well known white man who has been under suspicion for some time. All parties were locked up in the county jail.

The interior presented the appearance of a combined drug store and barrel house. The shelves were filled with bottles bearing legends stating the contents were brandy cocktails, kummel, chartreuse, whiskey, and the fragrant Manhattan. They were all of the home made variety and there was no trouble in tracing the paternity of the goods for one of the shelves contained a series of vials bearing the brand of an eastern firm that makes a specialty of advertising, "How to Make Your Own Liquors." A copy of a pamphlet with instructions for carrying on the business was also found.

In a corner stood a lot of unlabeled highly perfumed cordials flanked by forty bottles of extracts. There was also a five gallon empty alcohol can which was used to impart "pep" to the compounds. The proprietor carried a regular book account with debits and credits for Indians around town. The offense comes under the head of conducting a rectifying establishment and also selling alcohol without authority. The cabin has been sealed up awaiting instructions from San Francisco.

A LITERARY RIDDLE.

Why Does a Woman Write Differently From a Man?

Why is it that you can always tell a story written by a man from one written by a woman? I saw the thing put to a rather severe test within the last month, with results that were startling.

Ten men and women, all of whom do considerable novel reading, had had dinner together. One of the men asked the question I put at the top of these paragraphs. He was in his own home and went to some trouble to prove that the sex of authors is an easy thing to determine.

Giving to each of the nine others a pencil and piece of paper, the host proceeded to read extracts from twenty different books and magazines, selecting parts in which proper names would not identify the story. As he read each person wrote down his guess as to whether the author was a man or a woman.

Of the 180 answers made by the nine persons to the twenty tests all but eight were correct. As he kept the books from which he read concealed it was impossible to get aid with the eye.

But, although everybody guessed right almost every time, no one could still give a good definition of the conundrum. Why does a woman write differently from a man?—Philadelphia Ledger.

COMSTOCKER CROSSES DIVIDE

Walter Dexter, a well known miner of Virginia City, died in the hospital in that city yesterday morning. He had been in the hospital for some time, but it was not believed that he was in such a critical condition. He was a well known miner of the camp and years ago was a baseball player of ability. He is survived by one brother Harry, and one sister, Mrs. Robert Cleator of San Diego, Cal.

DELEGATE DEPARTS

Mrs. James Hayward has gone to Bakersfield, Cal., where she will represent as a delegate Gettysburg post of the Woman's Relief Corps, at the grand encampment for the district of California and Nevada. From there she will go on to San Diego to visit relatives.

GREAT SALT LAKE.

Its Water Is Saline Simply Because It Has No Outlet.

Great Salt Lake has no outlet. The Jordan river, which enters it from the south, is the outlet of Utah lake. Bear river, coming from the north, carries the outflow from Bear lake. The waters of Utah and Bear lakes and of Jordan and Bear rivers are fresh, and so is the water of Weber river, the third great tributary of Great Salt lake, but the lake into which the three rivers flow is saline. It is saline because it has no outlet.

The fresh waters of the rivers contain some saline matter, but the quantity is too small to be discovered by taste.

As stated by the chemist, in parts per million, the quantity seems minute, but when account is taken of the total volume of water brought by the streams to the lake in a year their burden of saline matter is found to be really great, amounting annually to more than 500,000 tons.

Year by year and century by century the water which they pour into the lake is evaporated, but the dissolved solids cannot escape in that way and therefore remain.

They have accumulated until the lake water is approximately saturated, holding nearly as much mineral matter as it can retain in solution. The lake contains over 5,000,000,000 tons of common salt and 900,000,000 tons of glauber salt (sodium sulphate) as well as other mineral matter.—New York Telegram.

ROMANCE OF THE BAHAMAS.

Life in Nassau Was Once a "Purple Principally Thing."

During the American war between the states Nassau of the Bahamas was very much on the tongues of men, as the devil-may-care emporium of contraband cotton, whereby haugs many a dashing sea story, some of which you can still hear from the lips of the men who took part in them.

The whole history of the Bahamas, since Columbus made his first landfall in the western seas on Watling's island, has been a fantastic record of desperate opportunism. The prose of "legitimate" business has seldom dulled the edge of precarious prosperity on these derelict islands, whose very existence still seems at the grudging mercy of the sea.

Buccaneering, wrecking and blockade-running—no more tedious employ than these masculine professions occupied the Bahamians for generations, and so long as there were merchantmen to be boarded or scuttled, rich cargoes to be harvested from the white fanged reefs or cotton to be run to Wilmington at a profit of $100,000 the trip life in Nassau was a purple princely thing, and even the shoeblacks in Bay street played pitch and toss with gold.—Richard La Gallienne in Harper's Magazine.

Coffin Pasties.

Mince pies now are generally round, but there was a time when they were of a long, coffin shape and were, in fact, often referred to as "coffin pasties." But this somewhat greswome name and shape do not appear to have detracted from their popularity. Scogin, for instance, in the edition of his "Jests" published in 1626, is reported to have said on his deathbed, "Masters, I tell you all that stand about me, if I might live to eat a Christmas pyc I care not if I dye by and by after; for Christmas pycs be good meat."—London Chronicle.

PLEASED WITH TUNGSTEN DISTRICT OF McKAY CITY

John Blake, Paul Whaley, Tom Carroll and Tom Dumphy returned last night from a visit to their tungsten properties at McKay City. They brought back a number of splendid specimens of scheelite ore from the Ableman, McKay, Clifford and other properties. Mr. Whaley said: "I have recently been to five tungsten excitements, including Round Mountain, Spanish Springs, Goldyke and Soda ville, and while each of them is splendid, McKay City has them beat, all rolled into one. The ore there could be glory-hoed at little cost and concentrated on the ground."

PIONEER COMES BACK FROM HIS INVO FARM

W. B. SOLLENDER RETURNS FROM HIS OLD HOME IN THE BISHOP COUNTRY

W. B. Sollender, the pioneer broker of Tonopah came in yesterday morning from his ranch in Inyo county where he has resided steadily for the past year. He expressed surprise at the developments that have taken place in the camp but grew enthusiastic over the motoring possibilities of the foothill district lying between Independence and Lake Tahoe.

"The people of the desert country are not sufficiently appreciative of the wonderful road work going on over the California line," he remarked yesterday afternoon when he stood on the approach to the Mizpah hotel watching the passage of a continuous stream of automobiles. This town is one of the best towns in the state and, I think, in the number of automobiles, judging from what I have observed in the last half hour, there are more autos here to the population than any other community of the size. I believe this will give the people of Tonopah a better opportunity to get acquainted with what is going on in Inyo county. Inyo county and Mono county are arranging to spend $50,000 and $30,000 respectively on their portion of the finest auto road in the west to connect with El Camino Sierra taking the tourist around to the entrance to the Yosemite by Tioga Pass and then on to Bridgeport and Tahoe making a continuous boulevard from Los Angeles to the crest of the Sierras giving a view of 200 miles of snow capped peaks. As soon as the projects are completed there will be a stream of travel from the coast that will place millions in circulation in Nevada.

"The Mono and Inyo bonds complete the first bond issue of $15,000,000 for good roads and another bond issue of $18,000,000 is contemplated."

TOO BUSY TO REPAIR BRIDGE OVER ROAD AT CURRANT CREEK

The county commissioners acting on the suggestion of the Bonanza made a feeble effort to install a temporary bridge at Currant Creek while waiting for the permanent steel structure ordered some time ago. John L. Butler who is working the old Horton ranch which he bought last fall, was asked to do the work, but he replied that he had more than he could attend to in taking care of 250 acres of growing crops.

"The Mono and Inyo bonds complete the first bond issue of $15,000,000 for good roads and another bond issue of $18,000,000 is contemplated."

Bored.

"I say, your ears have never been pierced, Alleen?"
"No, but they're being 'bored'!"—Lehigh Rurr.

Two Extremes.

There are no chagrins so venomous as the chagrins of the idle, no pains so sickening as the satieties of pleasure.—Ruskin.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

Starting the week with little Mary Miles Minter, the youngest star in the world, in a romantic story entitled "Dimples" which will be shown this evening, the Butler can conscientiously boast of the strongest weekly bill so far this year. Every day for the entire week a picture of unusual merit will be shown, and no two will be similar. "Dimples" is an original story written especially for Miss Minter, and screened by Harry Hoyt, the foremost photo-play author in America. Miss Minter, who has been aptly called "the flower of the screen," will be remembered for her excellent work in "Barbara Fritchie" recently shown here. Featured with Miss Minter is her new leading man, the popular juvenile actor, Thomas J. Carrigan, and supported by an excellent cast. The story is an exceedingly interesting one of romance, love and finance, and carries a strong human appeal. One of the roles in "Dimples" is played by Charlotte Shelby, the mother of Miss Minter. The preliminary reel will be Pathe Weekly showing all the latest current events.

Miss Whiting, the popular little entertainer, has returned from her engagement in Goldfield, and will be heard today and tomorrow, at the matinee and night shows in an entire change of songs. Miss Whiting says that the hardest part of her work is in selecting songs she thinks will be the most popular, and should be pleased to sing any particular song that is requested.

Tomorrow, Burton Holmes' travel pictures, "Felling Big Trees in California," and Pauline Frederick in "Zaza," the great dramatic success which brought fame to Mrs. Leslie Carter in the role of the French music hall singer.

GOLDFIELD WIFE GOES INSANE WHILE HUSBAND IS IN TONOPAH

Yesterday afternoon Chief of Police Evans received a wire from Goldfield notifying him that Mrs. Sam Strathan had gone insane suddenly and requesting that her husband who was employed in Tonopah be advised. Strathan was found at the Desert Queen in time to catch the afternoon stage to the southern camp.
